

Caleb Moberly Meets Violent Death in Fall

Caleb Moberly, eldest son of Lindsay and Hattie Moberly, deceased, while gathering cherries at the Joe N. Henry place in the suburbs of the city, on Lexington avenue, Saturday noon fell from a cherry tree heavily laden with fruit, breaking his neck, causing instant death. Young Moberly was well related, was fifteen years old and was a youth of promise. Young Moberly was industrious, full of pep and his anxiety to serve and to add to may have led to his death. He is survived by one brother, William Moberly.

Funeral services were conducted Sunday afternoon at his home, the residence of Mrs. Lucy Russell, corner of High and Sycamore streets, by Rev. Charles A. Ray, of the Presbyterian church. Following the services the body was buried in Machpelah cemetery. Floral contributions were numerous, rare and an indication of the fact that the deceased had many friends who believed in him as a boy of enviable principle whose life would have been worth much.

Rev. Ray in his sermon based on the text, "Be ye also ready, for at such a time as you know not the Son of Man cometh," and was directed to the living. Repentance toward God and faith in the Lord Jesus Christ is salvation and he who thus accepts Christ is a saved person. It is a free gift and whosoever will may become beneficiaries of this free gift.

The Boy Scout order attended the funeral service in a uniformed body, creating a very impressive sight.

This sudden passing of young Moberly should be a warning to all of his associates that while in health they are present with death and that to them the thing most important to seek first the kingdom of God.

HUGE SNAKE KILLED

John M. Isola, who has just returned from a winter's stay in Florida, is showing to his friends the skin of a large snake which he killed on his plantation recently. The snake was a diamond back rattler with twelve buttons and measured something over seven feet in length. Mr. Isola states that he has been hunting this reptile for three years, its mate having been killed about that time.

MILK COWS FOR SALE—If you want good milk cows, I have them. Prices reasonable. Always in market for stock hogs and cattle.—T. B. Hill (62-eol-1f)

BRICK BUSINESS HOUSE

R. D. Parsons has leased a lot on the corner of Maysville and Locust streets and will at once construct a one-story brick store room, fronting 20 feet on Maysville street and running back 40 feet. Floors will be concrete and Mr. Parsons will occupy it with fruits, vegetables, etc.

FOR FARMERS' CONVENIENCE

The ice box on North Maysville street, opposite Ragan-Gay Motor Company, has been purchased by S. P. Greenwade, who will keep it filled with Crystal Ice and a man will be there to deliver to the farmers going out of town. Purchase books at the main office or at the box and tickets will be redeemed at the box when ice is taken.—S. P. Greenwade.

LOST BY ONE DAY

Some weeks ago we made note of a lady by the name of Miss Edith Bull, who was walking from Denver, Colo., to Richmond, Va., under an agreement that she was to receive $700 if she made the trip in 30 days. Miss Bull lost by a day's journey.

A secret is never a secret until it is told to a friend.

Essex Lose Two More

The Mt. Sterling Essex on last Thursday journeyed to Maysville, where they were overwhelmingly defeated by the one-sided score of 10 to 0. The locals put up a ragged exhibition of ball.

On Sunday the local team played at Cynthiana, where they were again defeated, this time in an 11-inning affair, the final score being 8 to 7. After having this game practically sewed up, the locals went up in the air and threw it away. On the same day Winchester defeated Maysville to the tune of 4 to 3, again putting the locals in the cellar position. Lexington defeated Paris Sunday and is now only two games behind the leaders.

Winchester plays here this afternoon and the local boys are hoping to take their measure and will bend every effort to defeat the Clark county outfit.

MEMORIAL SERVICES

The memorial services at the St. Thomas cemetery Sunday afternoon, conducted by Rev. E. J. Corby, were largely attended. The choir of St. Patrick's church sang several appropriate selections. A short sermon was delivered by Father Corby, who in beautiful language paid touching tribute to the dead. Special mention was made of the soldiers, whose graves were decorated by the children with flags and flowers.

Produce Review

Production of butterfat, on account of fine pastures, is running heavy. Demand for butter is very good, but is not sufficient to take up the total make of butter for the next two or three months and the surplus will have to go to storage for use later, when the production will not be sufficient to take care of the demand.

The quality of eggs reaching the large consuming markets is now showing a decrease, but as the reserve stocks in storage are heavy, the market shows a downward tendency.

Eggs at the present time are showing the effects of warm weather, causing greater demand for stock from the northerly sections, while those from the southern states are dragging on the market. The producers who gather their eggs daily, keep them in cool places and market them often are the ones who are able to obtain top prices.

The movement of live hens is normal for this time of the year, with both live and dressed markets in consuming centers in a healthy condition.

The new crop of live broilers is beginning to move in the southern states and as the receipts increase, it is natural to expect lower prices.

Ex-Senator J. Will Clay Enters On His Reward

The message received here from the family of Hon. J. Will Clay announcing his death at St. Joseph's Hospital, Lexington, at about noon Saturday, while not a surprise, cast a deep gloom over this entire section, where deceased had always lived and where he was tenderly loved and highly honored.

Mr. Clay was born September 21, 1860, and was a son of John A. and Nannie Owings Clay. He was educated here, where he became a member of the Christian church at the age of 14 years. Since December 11, when he first was stricken down, he had been in a dangerous condition, and had struggled hard to overcome the dread monster, death, but his grasp was relentless, refusing to yield to medical science and expert nursing.

For two terms deceased served faithfully and acceptably the counties of Menefee and Montgomery in the Kentucky legislature, and for one term the counties of Bourbon, Clark and Montgomery in the Kentucky senate. Frequently he was called on to accept local offices and his labors here as in other positions were served with wisdom and justice.

He was engaged for several years in mercantile pursuits, first with W. S. Caldwell and later with Lucien Greene, deceased. He later engaged in the tobacco business with the late G. L. Kirkpatrick and up until the time of his death was one of the foremost tobacco men in the state. During recent years he had been extensively engaged in the oil industry in this and other states, and in this as in all his other business relations, had been very successful.

He was married in April, 1888, to Miss Elizabeth Bridges, who, with one son, William Caldwell Clay, survive. In addition to his immediate family he is survived by two grandchildren, William Caldwell and Albert Greene Clay; one sister, Miss Lucy; one brother, Matt C. Clay, and a half-brother, A. A. Clay, of Indian Fields.

Funeral services were conducted at the late home Monday afternoon at 2:30 by Rev. Clyde Darsie, assisted by Rev. Mark Collis, of Lexington, after which burial took place in Machpelah cemetery. The floral offerings were designs of the most delicate flowers, were numerous, rich and rare, and spoke in words more emphatic than we can command, the love and admiration of this just man. Out of respect to his memory, all business houses closed during the funeral.

Prominent in all matters, home, state and church, Hon. J. Will Clay now rests from his labors. No citizen has ever lived in Montgomery county who has done more for his people, one who was always glad to give or lend to the less fortunate, and no man could be more missed in matters ennobling than he who was universally recognized and admired as a man of genuine worth.

Will Clay was a man who loved his family, his home, his native people, and often we have heard him say after returning from a trip that the happiest hour of his visit was when he stepped off the train in old Mt. Sterling, the city of his nativity, the one place he loved above all others. Though he loved his home city even more did he love his people, and in our long acquaintance with him we have often heard him remark that nothing gave him so much pleasure as lending a helping hand to others. His was a life of service, one well spent, and in his departure this entire section has lost one of its noblest and best beloved citizens. To his generosity possibly more than any other that ever lived within the confines of Montgomery county, countless young men owe their success. He was a recognized friend to those in need, one with a heart whose size was only limited by his purse and in the hour of need the first man to be approached was always J. Will Clay. And although he had great confidence in and deeply loved his fellow citizens, even more did he love his home and family, where he was always the idol, where he will ever be missed, but where the imprint of a noble and inspiring life will forever leave its imprint. And in his passing we, together with the entire community, are deeply sorrowed, and extend to the grief-stricken widow, son and brother heart-felt sympathy.

His life as youth, young man and at its zenith was ever bright, so cloudless that the sun was ever shining through. This was the life of Hon. J. Will Clay from the cradle to the grave. And now though his loved ones are heartbroken and sorrow-stricken, we hope they will find surcease from their mourning in the blessed thought he is now only "Asleep in Jesus."

AN ENVIABLE RECORD

Miss Mayme Carl concluded her year's work at the Montgomery county high school with the record of being honor student of the junior class, having made a general average for the past three years of 95.7. Her record for the past three years in attendance, deportment, application and punctuality is 100 per cent. Miss Carl also recently won a prize in an essay contest on the subject, "Why Kentucky Stands Forty-fifth Educationally." She competed with the whole high school.

BOY HURT

Dixie Huff, the 12-year-old son of Mrs. Hattie Huff, was hurt while at play at school this morning. The boy slipped on the wet grass and his collar bone was fractured by the force of the fall. He was removed to his home and is suffering much pain from his injury.

City Hi Commencement

On Sunday, May 28, the baccalaureate sermon was delivered to the senior class of the City High School by the Rev. J. W. Crates at the Methodist church. On Wednesday, May 31, the class day exercises will be held in the auditorium of the high school with the following program:

Greeting—By the Class President —Miss Louise Orear.

Roll Call—By Secretary — Ruth Perry.

"Looking Backward" — Louise Smathers.

Class Poem—Alice Humphries.

Recommendations—Katherine Vansardell.

Giftoarian—Clayton Smoot.

On Friday evening, June 2, the High School commencement will be held in the auditorium with an address by Superintendent J. W. Ireland, of Frankfort. On Thursday evening, June 8, the grammar school graduating exercises will be held in the auditorium.

On Friday night the alumni banquet will take place in the auditorium and the menu will be prepared by the home economics department.

The class of 1922 is next to the largest class to graduate from the Mt. Sterling High School and is composed of the following members:

Misses Alma Cockrell, Lillian Crall, Frances Faulkner, Margaret Guthrie, Alice Humphrey, Mary B. Humphrey, Mary Morris, Louise Orear, Elsie Osborne, Ruth Perry, Ann Prewitt, Louise Smathers, Hazel Sullivan, Shirley Tott, Katherine Vansardell; Messrs. Thomas E. Coons, Cecil Davis, Raymond Donnohue, Francis Drennon, Duerson Prewitt, Thomas H. Rooney, Clayton Smoot, Floyd Stamper, W. R. Thompson, Jr.

CULLING STANDARD AND MIXED BREEDS OF POULTRY COMPARED

In Knox County, Ind., half the number of flocks of hens culled under the supervision of the county agent, employed cooperatively by the United States Department of Agriculture, the State Agricultural College, and the county, were standard bred and the other half mixed breeds, so their comparative merits could be considered through culling.

The 9 standard bred flocks numbered 1,087, while the 9 of mixed flocks numbered 1,103, or 16 more hens. The week before culling, the standard bred hens laid 2,906 eggs and the mixed breeds 2,547, or 352 less. In culling, 314 standard bred and 355 mongrel hens were removed from the flocks, leaving 773 standard bred and 738 mongrels, or 35 more standard breeds. Two owners of the standard bred flocks, being breeders, culled much closer than the owners of the mixed flocks. The week after culling the standard bred hens laid 2,724 and the mongrels 2,433 eggs.

The figures show that among the 1,087 standard bred hens there were 41 less culls than among the 1,103 of the mixed flocks, and that they laid 359 more eggs the week before culling and 291 more the week after.

Wages of 400,000 Rail Workers Reduced

Reduction affect mostly maintenance of way workers, and average about five cents per hour. Present rates range from 25 to 40 cents an hour reduced, they will be from 23 to 35 cents an hour.

The decision is the second reduction made in a year, the ruling of July, 1921, cutting off $400,000,000 from the payrolls of the roads.

If cases affecting other classes of workers now pending before the board are decided in line with the one of Saturday, it will mean virtually wiping out the raise of $600,000,000 awarded to railroad men in 1920.

Railway executives believe such action will restore wages to a level that will open up a new era of development, leading to the employment of 200,000 additional workers at an early date.

The majority of the board said that the reductions were made in accordance with the decreases in the cost of living.

The hearings on the case began in Chicago March 6 and ended April 29.

Fayette Circuit

Judge is Dead

William Worthington, 53 years old, judge of the Fayette circuit court, died yesterday afternoon at St. Joseph's Hospital, Lexington, following an operation for gallstones. He was taken to the hospital a week ago, but had been ill for several weeks, several times being forced to relinquish the bench, to which he was elected last November.

His widow and two sons, William and Frank, survive him.

Judge Worthington was a son of W. J. Worthington, who was lieutenant governor in the administration of Governor W. O. Bradley. He entered the University of Kentucky in 1896 and later was a student at Georgetown University, Washington.

He studied law in the offices of Breckinridge and Shelby and in 1897 was admitted to the bar. For three years he was with the law firm, but in 1900 began the practice of law for himself and handled principally real estate and title cases. Judge Worthington was born and reared in Greenup county.

For a number of years he served as referee in bankruptcy for the Lexington district in the United States court, the appointment having been made by Judge A. M. J. Cochran.

Judge Worthington, the Republican nominee, defeated former Congressman W. P. Kimball, Democrat, in the election last November. He succeeded R. C. Stoll, who is now serving as special judge.

MEMORIAL DAY

Machpelah, our beautiful city of the dead, was visited by hundreds of people on this—Memorial Day—and there was hardly a grave in the entire place but what was decorated by loving hands. The Knights Templar in full uniform gathered at the cemetery this morning to pay tribute to their deceased brothers. The American Legion also turned out and with fitting ceremony did honor to their beloved comrades who have crossed the Great Divide.

GARDEN TOMATOES CAN BE STAKED PROFITABLY

Tomato growers, including farmers, commercial growers and back yard gardeners, again are considering the question of whether or not to stake their tomatoes or cultivate them and allow them to fall on the ground, inquiries being received at the College of Agriculture show. Staking is out of the question for commercial people, but can be used to advantage in the average garden, specialists on crop at the college say. Staked plants are easier to keep free of disease, they yield more an acre and produce a more perfect fruit than unstaked ones.

"The cost of stakes, the additional labor involved and the greater number of plants required are the limiting factors for profitable staking of tomatoes when the crop is grown for the canning factory," N. R. Elliott said. "In this case, the ground should be cultivated thoroughly and then a mulch of hay, straw or some similar substance placed on the ground so that the fruit will be kept out of the dirt. Placing this material on the ground also helps to conserve moisture.

"For the average garden, it may be best to stake the plants. They are set about three by five or four by six feet apart and trained to a single stem. Stakes similar to a tobacco stick are driven beside each plant when these are set. By training to a single stem and pruning off all other stems and removing suckers that grow out of the axils of the leaves, it is possible to raise fruit of better quality than is produced when the plants are allowed to run on the ground.

"If the plants are set in the ground at least five inches deep and staked they should produce fruit until frost. Cultivation may be continued until the growing season is over when staking is practiced. When staked, the plants are tied every six to twelve inches, care being taken to see that they are not tied too tightly so as not to injure the fruit."

More people have taken Tanlac and praised it than any other medicine in the world. There's one reason only—merit.—Land & Priest.

War Finance Head Praises Burley Pool

Eugene Meyer, Jr., managing director of the War Finance Corporation, spent one day last week in Lexington as the guest of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association, lunched with the officers and directors of the association, purchased three Kentucky saddle horses from W. M. Jones, of North Middletown, delivered an address on the aid given co-operative marketing associations in the United States to an audience in the ballroom of the Phoenix Hotel, conferred with representatives of the War Finance Corporation in Kentucky and left for Chattanooga on a tour of the south, which will take him to Atlanta, and will include a number of conferences with representatives of co-operative marketing associations in several of the southern states.

Mr. Meyer declared before his address at the Phoenix Hotel that even if the War Finance Corporation had not had full confidence in the movement in Kentucky there would have been no doubt on that score after he had met the splendid men among the leaders of the association and who compose its board of directors.

President James C. Stone presided at the afternoon meeting at the Phoenix. He paid tribute to Judge Robert W. Bingham as the tobacco grower's friend. Judge Bingham was cheered for a minute before he could introduce Mr. Meyer, the audience rising.

Judge Bingham told the meeting of the growers at Elizabethtown Monday. He said he had been told that similar conditions existed in all the other counties, that growers were satisfied, and that they would not return to the old way of selling. He said that the War Finance Corporation had been of immense aid to the burley growers, not only in aiding in the financing of the second payment in part, but in the credit accruing to the association from the backing of such an institution as the War Finance Corporation in the orderly marketing of its crop.

Mr. Meyer in his address said it was probable that the War Finance Corporation would be continued for another year and said that recommendation had been made by his office, in connection with pending legislation, that would liberalize the attitude of government financing toward the agricultural producers.

ICE

Crystal Ice Co.

Furnishes Ice made from earth-filtered, distilled water. The word crystal describes the ice frozen from water so clear and pure that with the naked eye you can see through three cakes deep. Ice frozen this way will keep at least twice as long as the white ice; is also more than twice as cold and, of course, will keep articles that much longer and better than it is possible for the white ice to preserve. This is a fact by which our people can see that they get the best and purest ice for less money than they pay for what is termed white ice.

Mr. Meyer was accompanied by G. C. Henderson, of New York, general counsel for the Finance Corporation, and Floyd R. Harrison, of Virginia, assistant to the managing director. He was met at the station by President Stone and Judge Bingham and spent the morning visiting places of historic interest in and about Lexington and seeing the famous race horse, Man o' War, at Hinata farm.

"We have loaned millions of dollars to co-operative marketing associations," said Mr. Meyer, "and our relations with them have been satisfactory in every way. The business requirements of the War Finance Corporation have been met by them like the best and oldest established corporations in the country.

"I believe that co-operative marketing has been the salvation of the southern cotton situation, and I hope it will do as well for the tobacco growers as it has for the cotton producers.

"There is no better collateral for loans than good American staples, when properly warehoused and properly inspected on a reasonable valuation. Not only are they good collateral for 90 days, in my opinion, but as long as may be necessary for purposes of orderly and gradual marketing."

Reunion of Schoolmates

The following letter has been mailed to former students of Prof. A. N. Gordon, as far as their addresses are known, and it is hoped all former students, whether they receive a letter of not, will get in touch with the committee. The letter follows:

"Dear Schoolmate: It has occurred to a few of us who were pupils in years gone by of Prof. A. N. Gordon to arrange in his honor a dinner at the Phoenix Hotel, Lexington, on Saturday evening, July 1, 1922, at six o'clock. This will be in the nature of an observance of his birthday, as the second of July marks his seventy-fifth anniversary.

"The plan is to invite any of his pupils who may care to do so to join us in showing this grand old man this simple mark of our appreciation of his labors on our behalf.

"The undersigned committee having the arrangements in charge, requests that you notify them through their secretary if you desire to be present. Very respectfully,

A BETTER WAY TO PRESS CLOTHES

We use the Prosperity Presser, which blows the steam through the clothing being pressed. All dust, odors of sweat, etc., blown out of garments—not in understand—out!

The live steam used kills germs, brightens colors, raises the nap and gives new life.

Try us for dry cleaning, dyeing and repairing.

Facts About Our Cleaning and Pressing

We have heard many laudable comments and exclamations of surprise when new customers gaze upon the results of our dry cleaning and pressing service. You will do likewise if you will try our service once.

We use the AMERICAN STEAM GARMENT PRESS. With it things can't go wrong. No scorching, no shine left on garments. And every piece of work is sterilized by live steam. All dust and dirt is blown out and the clothing returned to you in first-class condition.

Try our Cleaning and Pressing Service. Our work is excellent and prices moderate.

We also do our own dyeing and can dye a suit and deliver it to you in one day's time.

ANOTHER ONE OF OUR BEST CITIZENS PASSES

By the death of Hon. J. Will Clay one of our most useful citizens passes. He was an honest, modest man, one who considered well before acting, and when he had decided what was for the betterment of the masses he was courageous in his acts. When a member of the legislature he was conspicuous in such a course. Like the immortal Henry Clay, he would rather be right than hold the highest office within the gift of the people.

In the business pursuits of life it was his pleasure to engage to do all possible for the interest of the laborer, for it was this class of people, those who produced, that enlisted his best efforts. Notwithstanding that he was the laboring man's friend, he believed that there should be engendered such a friendly spirit between capital and labor that they would in all matters be as one; he labored to this end, believing that capital in order to obtain the best results, should be a partner with labor. In his home there was the sweet, loving family spirit. It was his joy to serve. In business his brother, M. C. Clay, and himself were one. In the improving of state or county he was aggressive, always ready to do a liberal part.

Such a man has fallen and he will be greatly missed everywhere. Death is cruel and remorseless, continuing to select a shining mark, sparing not anything living, striking down all classes, whether exalted or lowly, it matters not which, for it is appointed to all men once to die. The doors of all people are open to the Death Angel; it cannot be closed.

His generous qualities appeal to the people, but the life book of this just man is closed and his friends will know him only by his footprints. The family in their bereavement have the sympathy of a host of friends, evidence of which were the floral contributions that blanketed the grave of the deceased.

The sorrow-stricken widow, the devoted son and family, the sister, the brother and family, grievously afflicted by the taking away of husband, father brother and friend have the very deepest and most heartfelt sympathy of our entire people.

"He was a man of soul sincere,
in action faithful, and in honor clear;
Who broke no promise, served no private end,
Who wore no title, and lost no friend."

MAJORITY OF SHEEP HAVE STOMACH WORMS

Practically every flock of sheep in Kentucky is infested with stomach worms, according to L. J. Horlacher, in charge of sheep work at the College of Agriculture. However, by using proper preventive measures, farmers can keep the infestation from becoming very serious and send their lambs to market in prime condition, he pointed out.

"On the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station farm we have found that rotation of pastures is one of the best means of prevention. Whenever possible, ewes and lambs are changed to fresh pastures every two weeks from the first of June until the lambs are marketed. It has been found that if the pastures are kept in good condition, the infestation will not be as serious as it is if the grass is kept cropped short.

"Rape, oats, clover and vetch all make excellent crops for alternating with permanent bluegrass pastures. Lambs which are kept free from the worms by these preventive measures will be ready for market much earlier than those which are troubled with them.

"If the sheep become infested with worms, they must be drenched, copper sulphate, commonly known as bluestone, being best for this. One-fourth of a pound of the pulverized material is dissolved in a pint of boiling water and enough water added to make three gallons. This is sufficient to drench 100 adult animals, each one being given three and one-half ounces of seven level table-spoonsful. Lambs receive half this amount. It is necessary to keep the sheep off feed for 12 hours before drenching and care also should be taken not to strangle them while the drench is being given. Details of controlling stomach worms may be obtained by writing the Experiment Station."

Ladies, buy our Holeproof Silk Hose. To introduce them we are offering $2 qualities at $1.50; $3 hose at $2. Best values you ever saw.—The Walsh Company.

SHARPSBURG

The Sharpsburg high school commencement was held last week. Monday night diplomas were conferred by Prof. John Dotson. Tuesday was classfield day with a baseball game and competitive physical drill. Wednesday night an address was delivered by Dr. John L. Hill, of Georgetown College. Friday night a recital was given by the music pupils of Miss Alice Grinier. Sunday the baccalaureate sermon was preached by W. S. Harrell. The music for the week was furnished by the choir and the Sharpsburg orchestra.

Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Bascom and daughter, Miss Jessie, and little son, George, Jr., returned from Louisville Saturday, where they had been for a throat operation for George, Jr.

Mrs. Mary Peck and daughter, Miss Fannie Peck, have returned to their home at Lexington after a month's visit with relatives here.

The Rev. D. E. Hill, Mrs. Hill and little son, Gladson Middleton, Louisville, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Knight from Saturday until Monday.

Miss Mahelle Sharp was called to Lexington Tuesday by the illness of her mother, Mrs. Fannie Sharp.

Mrs. E. R. Berry is attending the Danville commencement, her daughter, Miss Mary Wagner, being one of the class.

The family of Mrs. Sarah Shroat have recovered from their recent illness. Mrs. Shroat gave a family dinner and soon after they had eaten little Walter Shroat became violently ill. Soon five other members of the family became ill. It is believed they were poisoned from eating a can of pears.

Mr. and Mrs. Owens Ratliff, Lexington, were guests of relatives here this week.

Mrs. Crawford and little daughter, Helen, of Cisco, Texas, have returned home after a month's visit to Mrs. Crawford's sisters, Misses Lena and Ida Royse.

Oral Barnaby is going to Middletown Ohio, to live, having accepted a position at that place.

G. E. Shroat has gone to Johns Hopkins hospital at Baltimore, Md., to consult physicians in regard to his health.

CAMARGO AND VICINITY

News items are scarce in this section, possibly because our people are quiet and civilly inclined.

Last week was fine for the tobacco growers and much of the weed was set both by hand and setter and under almost ideal conditions. Corn is up nicely and is being given work. Crows and birds are taking quite a toll in some fields. Wheat looks the best in recent years and soon will be ready for the binder. Clover meadows are made, and only good hay weather is needed to save a big crop. Much complaint is heard regarding a poor prospective Irish potato yield.

May 19 saw the close of the high school at the consolidated school, and doubtless for most of the young people the curtain at this place was rung down the last time as a body as no arrangement for teaching the fourth year work has been made. Through these years of work together quite an admirable attachment has resulted. May the fruits of their work ever be as a shining sunbeam to them and others, as they wind their way down the various paths of life's wonderful highway.

Mr. and Mrs. Mayes have as their guests Mr. Mayes' mother, of Springfield, and Mr. Mayes' niece, Miss Hettie Sallie, of Harrodsburg.

Rev. Cosby Duncan held services at the Christian church Saturday and Sunday nights. Rev. Richard Clark started a revival meeting at the Christian church this week and will probably be assisted by Rev. Duncan.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mayes visited

OWINGSVILLE

The Owingsville Woman's Club entertained about 100 guests from here and Mt. Sterling Wednesday evening in the city school chapel. Miss Virginia Slade, of Lexington, who for the last year has been with the Red-path Chautauqua, gave the play, "Within the Law." An orchestra composed of Miss Grace Crooks, piano; Ed Thompson, saxophone; Banks Thompson and Lee Conyers, violin, furnished music. Piano solos were given by Mrs. Alex Goodpaster and Miss Elizabeth Brothier. Ice cream and cakes were served by the young women of the Junior department of the club. Miss Slade while here was the guest of Mrs. A. T. Byron.

Miss Ruth Soper has returned to her home in Paris after spending several days with Miss Leona Palmer.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Ammerman and children went to Cincinnati Thursday. While there Mrs. Ammerman will have a throat operation.

A. T. Byron was in Louisville on business Wednesday and Thursday. Mrs. Young, of Mt. Sterling, is the guest of her son, Johnson Young, and Mrs. Young.

E. L. Byron spent Tuesday in Lexington.

Dr. A. W. Jones has returned from Norton Infirmary, Louisville. His friends regret his condition has not improved.

W. S. Thomas was in Lexington Wednesday.

Mrs. S. F. Owsley will leave next week to visit Mrs. Calvert Early in Meysville.

Russell Crooks, Pineville, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Crooks.

Frank Cross, who has been spending the winter at Eustis, Fla., has returned home.

R. W. Kincaid left Wednesday to attend the convention of county school superintendents at Richmond.

Mrs. Bettie Atchison left Sunday for an extended visit with her father, Mr. Hull, and to Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Jackson, of Fleming county.

The Rev. H. S. Ficklin has returned from a month's stay with his brother, who is ill in a hospital in Oklahoma City.

R. W. Kincaid and Clarence Ulery attended the district conference of the chambers of commerce of Central Kentucky at Georgetown.

Mr. Mayes' parents near Springfield last week.

H. W. Patrick, while crossing a wire fence at his place last week, came near being killed when lightning hit a nearby tree, the current on the wire knocking him several feet.

Prof. H. R. Riley and wife, of Munfordville, are visiting Mrs. Riley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Wells.

Kirk Wyatt, of Lexington, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Wyatt, Saturday and Sunday.

Leave it to a colored brother for a lawful excuse when occasion demands. Recently a colored parson was "pinched" for having a little moonshine. After going a short distance he informed the officer, "Boss, I jest can't go wid you all today; I've got a 'gement to preach at 2:30 this evenin'."

OUR RED CROSS IN EUROPE

Tribute has been paid to the work of the American Red Cross in Europe by even the head of a far Moslem community, who, after seeing with his own eyes, is said to have written that the United States had been created in order that "out of compassion and charity" it might "do good to humanity." This, in addition to the grateful acknowledgments of so many races and nations of Europe, may be said to complete the testimony showing that the A. R. C. carried on in Europe the greatest crusade of mercy the world has ever known. The subject is once more topical in consequence of the cable dispatch from Paris reporting the withdrawal of the organization from Europe, where its benefactions will long be remembered.

It is stated that the great undertakings of the American Red Cross in Europe during and since the war cost more than half a billion dollars, but this sum by no means represents all that was contributed. It does not include labor without any charge of millions of Americans representing practically every community in the United States. The extent of the gift of America to Europe in the form of the Red Cross cannot be measured in terms of money. We may well believe that the work done in a vast area from the Atlantic to the Euphrates, as the report says, has "left an enduring impression on millions of grateful hearts." Though the greta organization of mercy will now be formally withdrawn from overseas, it is stated that it will continue to give aid here and there in response to urgent calls.

Are the people who tell you not to worry in the immune class?

A NEW WAY TO STOP WAR

A president of the United States is called upon to speak on more subjects than any man as busy as he is can possibly master. It is reasonable to suppose, there, that in no few instances a president takes the advice of experts in advance, in order that a view may be presented that will contribute toward intelligent discussion. But President Harding could hardly have prepared himself in this or in other ways before he delivered his recent address in the presence of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, in the course of which he made some surprising statements, including the following:

"I do not believe that we would ever have been drawn into the war—
I do not hesitate to say that I doubt if there had ever been a world war
—if America had prior to the war commanded a merchant marine commensurate with our commercial importance in the world."

This seems to say that, in order to preserve the peace of the world, all we need to do is to enact a ship subsidy. If only we secure government aid an buildup up a merchant marine "commensurate with our commercial importance," there will be no more international discord, no more imperialistic ambition, no more aggressive militarism. The nations will be so stunned with astonishment or admiration or leportant envy of our greatness that they will give up and lie down, so to speak, and then love each other and be good and fight no more. Of course Mr. Harding cannot really mean anything of the sort, but if he does not mean something of the sort, what can he mean?

See The Advocate for printing.

All Voters Must Register to Qualify

Under the general registration act, passed over the governor's veto by the 1922 general assembly, every voter in the city and in the county must register in order to be eligible to vote at the November election.

The dates of registration this year are July 10 and 11 and September 8,
the hours being six a. m. to nine
p. m.

The officers will be two judges, a clerk and a sheriff. These are to be appointed by the county board of election commissioners not later than June 20, from lists to be furnished by the party committees not later than June 15. The law says:
"No person shall be eligible as an officer of registration who has committed a homicide, or who has been convicted of a felony or is under indictment therefor, or who is not sober, temperate, discreet and of good character, or who has anything of value wagered on the result of the next election, or who is a candidate to be voted for at the next succeeding election, and who is not capable of reading the constitution of the commonwealth in English and of writing a plain and legible hand." See section 2 of the act.

It is the duty of the registration clerk to post notices in at least six conspicuous places in the precinct ten days in advance, giving the time and place of registration. As soon as registration officers receive from the sheriff of the county notice of their appointment they should secure a copy of the registration law and make themselves thoroughly familiar with it.

Who May Register—"Said officers shall register every citizen of the United States of his or her precinct, who shall apply to be registered at the time and place in the manner required by law, who shall be twenty-one years of age at the next election, who has been a resident of the state one year, of the county six months, and of the precinct in which such person offers to register, sixty days next preceding the election."

It is not necessary that the voter should be a resident of the precinct sixty days before he offers to register. If by the November election he will have been a citizen of the state
one year, of the county six months and of the precinct sixty days, he may register, even though he may have moved into the precinct the day before, or even on the day of registration.

How to Register—The voter must apply in person. His or her name will be recorded in a book by the clerk. The voter must then give his address, street and number if in a city and postoffice if in the country, length of residence in state, county and precinct, color, age, sex, occupation, party affiliation. When all of this is recorded the voter must sign his name, if he can. If he is unable to sign, he may make oath to that fact and the clerk will sign for him.
When all of this is done and attested by the clerk and sheriff the voter is duly registered.

Within three days after registration the books must be taken to the county clerk's office, where a copy of each precinct book is made by the county clerk.

The next question to be decided is who shall play the Irish harp and who shall play the second fiddle.

Million Pounds of Burley Sold

An additional 1,000,000 pounds of the redried tobacco of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association has been sold by President James C. Stone and several other big sales are imminent. It was said at the offices of the association late last week. No information was given out as to the purchaser of the 1,000-hogshead lot or the prospective purchasers.

Before Managing Director Eugene
Meyer, Jr., Assistant Floyd R. Harrison and General Counsel G. C. Henderson, of the War Finance Corporation, left Lexington for Chattanooga they inspected the tobacco which is represented by the warehouse receipts, given as collateral for the War Finance Corporation loan, and were shown the identification tags on each hogshead which distinguishes the tobacco pledged as collateral from the large amount of tobacco held by the association which is free of any loan or collateral pledge.

They were impressed with the big-ness of the thing and the system of doing business and expressed pleasure at having an interest in the financial end of the burley associations work.

Mr. Meyer, Mr. Harrison, Mr.
Henderson and Judge Robert W.
Bingham, of Louisville, were dinner guests of Mrs. Stone and President Stone at their home and enjoyed what Mr. Meyer was told was an 'old-fashioned Kentucky home dinner.' Previous to the dinner they conferred with James B. Brown, Morgan O. Hughes and John W.
Harr, Jr., Kentucky directors of the War Finance Corporation, and C. F.
Jones and Nicholas H. Dosker, of the National Bank of Kentucky at Louisville.

On their visit to the tobacco district they were shown the storage facilities of the association and the complete warehousing system which enables the burley association to handle millions of pounds of tobacco and to care for it indefinitely pending its sale. Mr. Meyer frankly expressed himself as being impressed with the thorough business methods of the association, which were explained by Mr. Stone.

Contracts signed in the drive last week are coming to the office of Assistant Chief William Collins, of the field service division, by hundreds.
Many of them are from West Virginia and the counties in Ohio in which Clifton Rodes is conducting a campaign, but almost every county in the district is represented in the contracts received.

WOES OF THE TARIFF MAKERS

In his recent widely noted "farewell" to America, speeded with both praise and criticism, describing the English as "ferocious for personal freedom" in contrast with Americans, Henry W. Nevins, British newspaper correspondent, speaks of the United States as a "land too large for concentrated indignation." We are reminded of this astute characterization by the varying and contradictory demands faced by the tariff makers at Washington. A land "too large for concentrated indignation"—except in rare instances, as in war when the people of all sections thrill to the same impulse—is also a land too large, too varied and conflicting in commercial interests, for any solution of such problems as the tariff to be acceptable in all of its parts.

A single example will present convincing illustration of this. With the exception of twelve years bides have been on the free list ever since 1893, but the farm bloc representing the west forced the senate finance committee to tax green hides two cents and dry hides four cents. Against this the east protests and the great shoe industry of New England, in open rebellion, is worrying Senator Lodge with hard words, virtually demanding either free hides or his hide. Even the farm bloc is now torn with doubts, after balancing the cents saved on hides against the dollars to be lost through the "compensatory" duty on shoes, and Senator Capper, a leading representative of the bloc, is said to have begun to clamor for both free hides and free shoes.

There is a similar runoff of opinion and interest with regard to other items, and naturally there are changes as well as hesitation and confusion. With Republican newspapers ripping the bill up the back, with manufacturers demanding protection against being "protected," and with even intended beneficiaries spurning the benefits conferred, no wonder only 45 of the 1,700 paragraphs are as yet "disposed of" and only "technically" the bill drags interminably, and, although the tariff makers are working twelve hours a day, Senator McCumber despairingly figures that at the present rate the business will not be completed until 1946.

Produce Review

Marketing of live hens has shown a material increase, due to the laying and setting seasons being pretty well advanced, and this has caused some slight decline in the market price.

There is a good demand however for dressed poultry and the general prospects are for prices to rule around present levels, possibly a little lower.

Production of eggs is about normal for this time of the year, and as the consuming demand is lighter, there is a larger quantity going into storage, which has had a tendency to cause lower market values.

As the weather continues to grow warmer, particular care should be given by producers to see that eggs are gathered daily, kept in cool places, and marketed several times each week.

The production of butterfat is about normal for this time of year, and as the consuming demand has been heavy, markets have shown some advance. However, as there will be a surplus from now on, which will move to storage, it is natural to look for lower values.

A man recently divorced says that when he was living with his wife every time he picked up his hat and started out of the house she would say: "Where are you going?" "Why are you going?" Are You An Ailing Woman? Here is Most Vital and Important Advice

Jonesboro, N. C.—"At one time I was greatly distressed and had to walk tip-toe for fear of jarring myself. The doctor said I had an organic trouble. He doctored me for that and I received some relief from his medicine, enough so I could do a little work in the house, but for two years I suffered with that awful 'achy' pain. Finally, a friend heard of my illness, and told me what Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription had done for her, and I decided I would try it. The first few doses helped me, and by the time I had taken two bottles I began to feel all right again. I have great faith in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription."—Mrs. Hannah McChin. Our consumption of cigarettes is three and a half times as great as in 1913. The increase is attributed to smoking habits acquired during the war. This is a part of the explanation, but perhaps a larger part is to be found in the lack of stimulating drinks under prohibition.

- Personal Friendship -

WE ARE GREAT BELIEVERS IN FRANKNESS. ADVOCATES OF FACING EVERY ISSUE WITH OPEN MINDS AND HONEST HEARTS. Neither are we an exception. Mt. Sterling folks have, as a rule, always been of this disposition and this has been one of the contributing factors to the upbuilding of our city and its institutions.

OUR MUTUALITY OF INTERESTS HAS BEEN THE INSPIRATION OF THE PAST AND WILL BE OF THE FUTURE. The relations of the Business Men of Mt. Sterling and its citizens have been peculiarly interwoven in the work which has already been done towards our city's advancement. But we feel it to be your desire and theirs to have even a better understanding prevail THAT WE ALL MAY LABOR WITH A COMMON PURPOSE AND AN UNITED EFFORT.

WE FEEL THERE IS NO PRICE WHICH CAN BE PUT UPON THE VALUE OF PERSONAL FRIENDSHIP. And whether we are intimately acquainted or not, it is one thing which all of us Mt. Sterling people possess for each other in the fact that we are all Mt. Sterling folks. It is this idea that prompts us to urge a greater allegiance to our community BY A MORE SOLID BACKING OF ITS BUSINESS INTERESTS.

Isn't it worth something to you, friends, to spend your money with Mt. Sterling business institutions whose owners are Mt. Sterling men and women like yourself. Isn't it satisfying to you to feel that when you band your money in exchange for Merchandise or Service, that you are banding it over to someone who is, at heart, INTERESTED IN YOU AND YOUR EXISTENCE IN THIS COMMUNITY?

Doesn't it make your blood surge a little more rapidly to know that this transaction between individuals is not just a cold, lifeless happening of business but instead is warmed by the knowledge THAT YOU ARE A LOYAL CITIZEN TO THE INTERESTS OF YOUR TOWN; that you are dealing as friend with friend and to the mutual advantage of both yourselves and your community?

Contrast with this if you will the spending or sending of money from Mt. Sterling and you will instantly picture a business transaction with strangers WHO CARE NOT NOR CONCERN THEMSELVES WITH YOU OR YOUR FUTURE WELFARE IN THE SLIGHTEST. What happens to you, your family, your dollars or your property is entirely foreign to this transaction. It is a severe, calculating business procedure where both of you stand as strangers with no community of interests or aspirations. The dollar you spend is the basis of operation. A sordid business transaction the result.

We want you folks to think about this the next time you make your purchases. The Druggist, the Clothier, the Baker, the Plumber—in fact, every Business Man of every line represented in Mt. Sterling—is at your service. And we might add—AS FRIEND TO FRIEND.

Every one of the business firms whose names are appended herewith do business on this basis, folks. And they are only part of the entire number who go to make up the personnel of the Mt. Sterling Business District—MEN WHO CONDUCT THEIR BUSINESS ON THIS HEART-TO-HEART PLAN. Notice this in the future.

FARM AND HOME NEWS FROM OVER KENTUCKY

With the organization of four junior agricultural clubs in one week in Nelson county, interest in this line of activity continues to increase among the farm boys and girls in that district. County Agent C. L. Hill says. The county will have ten organized clubs with local community leaders this year.

Nineteen Daviess county farmers who are co-operating with the College of Agriculture extension division in keeping cost accounts in their farm business are getting much satisfaction from their records, it is reported. Each of the record keepers took an inventory of his farm equipment early in the year and will continue the record keeping for at least one year in order to determine the value of putting their farm operations on a business basis.

Acid phosphate has received increased consideration from Fleming county farmers this year in their soil building work. County Agent H. F. McKenney says. One community alone has used 44 carloads.

Eighty-four per cent of the orchard grass growers of Oldham county have joined the recently organized Orchard Grass Seed Growers' Co-operative Association. County Agent Gordon B. Nanco reports.

Breckinridge county farmers are uniting in a movement to eradicate scrub sires in all classes of livestock found in that district, it is reported. Plans for a swine breeders' association for the purpose of stimulating interest in purebred hogs, which the farmers will organize with the help of County Agent R. M. Greone, mark the latest development in the movement.

FORD NEARS OUTPUT OF 5,000 A DAY

Ford dealers in the United States have asked for a total of 194,750 Ford cars, trucks and tractors to meet their June requirements, says a report issued by the Ford Motor Company, Detroit, Mich.

As a result, the estimated output for June has been boosted to 140,000, which is an increase of 10,000 over the present month, and, of course, will set up a new high record, in spite of the fact that the May output will show a substantial increase over the previous highest month.

Ford sales have been constantly increasing since the first of the year, the demand growing during the past two months faster than it has been possible to increase production.

Monday, May 16, brought forth a new record of cars built for one day, the figures reaching 4,878 at the close of the day's work. This was an increase of 16 over May 15, which the previous high mark was established.

On May 18 the six millionth Ford motor was assembled. Number five million came off the line on May 28, 1921.

Ford officials state that every attempt is being made to build a sufficient number of cars and trucks to fill the retail requirements of their 8,000 dealers.
